

NOT A GO.

REPUBLICAN SENATORS WANT POSTELL'S APPOINTMENT WITHDRAWN.

Gov. Bradley Tells Why The Negro Was Selected For The Position—Pressure Brought to Bear.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 18.—Gov. Bradley was asked by the Times correspondent this morning what about the rumored refusal of the Senate to confirm the appointment of Postell, the negro saloon-keeper, as steward of the Hopkinsville asylum.

He said: "Officially, I have heard of no such refusal to confirm, though the rumors of which you speak have reached me. I have nothing to do with or to say about what the Senate will do. I can only say that I appointed Postell upon the recommendations of that section, and three other white men who were applicants for the same place, withdrew their applications and urged Postell's appointment. He was represented to me as a good citizen and a splendid business man."

"No, I did not know that he was a saloon-keeper, though I have heard of that being made a barrier to an appointment in any party."

Gov. Bradley wouldn't say what his course would be if the Senate does not confirm the appointment, but he didn't act like he would be heart-broken with disappointment if the rejection came. The Democratic majority of the Senate Committee, to which the nomination was referred, has already decided to report in favor of its rejection.

Since the foregoing interview with Gov. Bradley was had this morning, the Republican Senators and others have taken a "tumble," and they are going to make the Governor withdraw Postell's appointment, if it is possible to do so. They see that most of the Democratic Senators may set back and refuse to vote on the confirmation. About five of them will vote "no" and with the fourteen Republicans make a quorum. Then the vote would stand sixteen Republicans to five Democrats, the appointment will be confirmed; the negro saloon man will be put upon an equal plane with hundreds of white unfortunate men who can't help themselves, and a Republican Governor and sixteen Republican Senators will be wholly and solely responsible for the consummation of the appointment. The only way to prevent this sort of a boomerang on himself and the Republican Senators is for Postell's appointment to be withdrawn, and look out for this to be done.

SENATORIAL ELECTION POSTPONED.

Godfrey Hunter Has to Yield a Point in His Victory Fight.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 18.—An agreement has been informally reached by which there will be no election of a United States Senator until after the election and qualification of the late Isaac Wilson's successor, which can not be until after February 1.

The Republicans realize that the six men who constitute the Democratic Steering Committee and their able assistants have them by the throat ready to throttle any attempt to seize a senatorial seat by other than fair methods, and late this afternoon they acceded to the proposition which had been made.

The present status of affairs was brought about through the efforts of the Senate Steering Committee, composed of Meers, Goebel, Stephenson, Salyer, Fulton, Bronston and Weissinger, and a few honest Republican leaders who are more representative of the will of the people than they are partisans. Prominent among them are Senators Petrie, Bennett and Stege and representatives Landes and Burman.

Garrett-Gregory Marriage.

OAK GROVE, Jan. 18.—Mr. Ed H. Garrett, a prosperous young farmer of near here, was married to Miss Cora Gregory, one of Howell's most accomplished and beautiful young ladies, at Hotel Latham, Tuesday, Jan. 14. After the ceremony they left immediately for their home near Elmo, where they will reside in the future.

Ed is a jolly and good-natured fellow and is a general favorite with all who know him. His wife will be greatly missed in South Christian society, where she was so popular, and Ed is to be congratulated on winning such a lovely one for his life's companion.

They received many beautiful and costly presents.

May their future be bright and happy.

DOWN IN DIXIE.

The National Editorial Association at St. Augustine To-day.

(Editorial Correspondence.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Jan. 18.—At 9 o'clock this morning the National Editorial Association, or that part of it from the western states, has just put in an hour eating breakfast and started out over the Plant system for Florida.

The editor of the Kentuckian, traveling in two volumes, boarded the special train at Hopkinsville at 6 o'clock Friday night. It was made up of eight cars and about 210 persons were on board. This number has by this morning been increased to about 250. The Kentucky delegation is in the Missouri car and very pleasantly situated with a jolly party. Kentucky is represented by G. R. Rosser, of Mayfield, H. A. Somers, of Elizabethtown, and Chas. M. Meacham and wife, of Hopkinsville. L. A. Gaines, of Elkton, will join the party next Tuesday. The other delegate, W. P. Walton, of Stanford, has not been heard from and was probably unable to come. We are hoping, however, that he may yet show up before the meeting is over.

As stated above, the start from Hopkinsville was made on Friday. This fact in itself was not a reassuring circumstance and what we found that we had been assigned to section No. 13 there was open rebellion on the part of the superstitious members of the Kentuckian's representation. Secretary J. M. Page, who took us in charge as soon as we boarded the train, was appealed to and changed us to No. 14. Col. Rosser, the gallant old bachelor from Mayfield, generously agreed to exchange sections and take whatever risk was attached to the unlucky number. By the way the jolly old colonel is the life of our party. He already knows everybody in our car and is having more fun than anybody.

The first stop was made at Nashville. Here the crowd took supper. No incident worthy of note occurred except that one lady got lost. We did not learn her name. She was not in our car. An all night brought us to Montgomery at 6 o'clock. After breakfasting near the depot we had half an hour to spare, which we utilized in taking a stroll up town. Montgomery is a considerable city, with broad, well paved streets and handsome business houses with broad wooden awnings extending the full length of the squares, high above the pavements. A rain came up just as we left and we did not see the city under the most favorable circumstances. At this writing we are speeding through Southern Alabama, a desolate looking country, with nothing but occasional forests of scrubby pines and little villages along the railroad to vary the monotony that wears the eye. Our next meal will be at Thomaston, Ga., after we cross the Chattahoochee river.

PINECRAW, ALA., Jan. 18.—It is now 2 o'clock p. m. and we are 104 miles from the dinner station. We have been nearly five hours making 107 miles over a rough road. At this place we stopped for some unknown reason for half an hour and there was a grand rush upon the only store for something to eat. The small stock of cakes, apples and oranges quickly disappeared. A bar close by soon sold out the stock of beer on hand and then the bar-keeper looked up his saloon ruckus, hatched his hand and bareheaded for the depot. There he found a fresh barrel unopened and several orders assisted him in knocking out the head. Five minutes the bottles were all sold and enough money left in the town to start a boom in all lines of trade.

By applying a little mathematics to the speed of the train and the distance to Thomaston it figures out that the next meal will be a sort of cross between dinner and supper at about 5 o'clock. However, the Kentuckian crowd happened to be provided with a lunch that answered all of the purposes of a dinner. We will cross the Chattahoochee river and get into Georgia in a few minutes and the next place we will make a stop at will be Thomaston, Ga. Tampa is 314 miles below that place, which we expected to reach for breakfast to-morrow morning. As it is we will get there to dinner. Remaining there till Monday night we run up to St. Augustine 250 miles by Tuesday morning.

CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Another One Captured—Broke Up in a Row—Sam Jones in Town—Horrible Death—Seriously Hurt—Drummer Gets Gay.

Will Open the Bridge.

The case of the Clarksville & Russellville Turnpike Co. vs. Clarksville and Montgomery County, decided in the Court of Chancery Appeals Saturday in Nashville, is of great importance to Clarksville and Montgomery County. The town, county and several prominent citizens each put in $3,333 and built a free bridge across Red River, midway between the upper and lower Red River bridges, one owned by the city and the other by the turnpike company, which are both toll bridges. The county court opened a road northwardly running into the new bridge. The turnpike company enjoined them from opening the bridge on the ground that it was a "dead" road. The Chancellor granted the injunction but the Court of Appeals reversed the Chancellor and dismissed the bill of the turnpike company. The bridge has been closed eighteen months.

Another one Captured.

Mathew Franklin, another alleged member of the Howton mob, of Caldwell, was captured at Charleston, Mo., last week, and is now in jail at Princeton. He arrived in Charleston sometime in November and went under the name of Ashley. Sheriff Groom of Caldwell was notified, and immediately telegraphed his arrest. Franklin is the fifth man who has been arrested and held for this crime. He was a witness in the trial of Witherspoon and professed the densest ignorance about the case, though much of the testimony seemed to show that he was one of the gang himself.

The grand jury indicated him and he set once left the country, and was not heard of until Sheriff Groom was informed of his whereabouts.

Little Dollies Wed.

Miss Susie Thomson, the bright little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Thomson, entertained a few of her little school mates at her home on Ninth street Saturday evening in Princeton. Her party was married that afternoon at 3 o'clock to Miss Inez Tibbs' doll. Miss Ruth Dietrich's doll being best man and Miss Katharine Tibbs' doll being the maid of honor. Miss Virgie Nourse said the ceremony in a very impressive manner, after which the little folks partook of refreshments and had a good time generally. There was a host of bright little dolls to witness the marriage.

One Farmer Shoots Another.

Jim Davis, a half-witted farmer, shot and wounded John Jackson Friday morning at the former's place near Princeton. Jackson had a mortgage on Davis' place, which was foreclosed two months ago. This is said to be the cause of the shooting.

Broke Up in a Row.

CROFTON, Ky., Jan. 18.—A few nights since dance was given at the home of Mr. Wm. Sizemore, about two miles west of Crofton. Some of the young men present, it seems, had partaken too freely of red liquor and were very noisy and rowdy, and as a result Pat Long and Henry Sizemore became involved in a difficulty, which resulted in a general fight. No one was seriously hurt, but the boys appeared before the Collins' day to receive their sentence for what they had done. They were prosecuted by County Attorney Anderson and defended by Attorney W. B. Brown of this place.

Sam Jones in Town.

Rev. Sam Jones passed through the city yesterday morning en route home from St. Louis. He preached in the Lafayette Park Methodist church at St. Louis, Sunday morning and left for Cartersville, Ga., in the evening. He was dropped into St. Louis by the "Great Trip" train to get a trim to resume his duties "on his tour in Georgia."

Married to Avoid Imprisonment.

Walter Alexander and Elmore King were married by Judge Breathitt Friday. Alexander, who is only 17 years old, was charged with seducing the King woman, under the promise of marriage. The court had agreed that the knot should be tied. As soon as the ceremony was said Alexander disappeared, and it is said that he left his bride in the city. Both were colored.

Child's Horrible Death.

A little child of John W. Parrott was burned to death at Dulany, a few miles west of Princeton, Thursday. It went into a smoke-house alone and its clothing caught on fire. It was dead when discovered by its mother. Nearly all the flesh was burned from its bones.

CLARKSVILLE'S ELECTION.

Fight of the Nine Aldermen—Chosen are Democrats.

In the municipal election held in Clarksville Saturday the Democrats carried all the wards except the Ninth which is largely colored, and Republican. This ward has been represented by a negro in the City Council for several years. Dr. Carney was re-elected Mayor by a majority of 308 over Maj. Brandon, Republican. The members of the old Board of Aldermen re-elected were: John Noblett, R. E. Gilbert, John H. Pettus, Jas. H. Smith, W. B. Young, J. W. Page, ed. and Dr. Marable. A special ballot was had to ascertain sentiment on the free bridge question, that is for lower Red River bridge. Every ward voted for freeness, the total majority being 209. The new aldermen elected were John Elder, Dr. Boyd and J. G. Fickering.

Another Drummer Gets Gay.

T. C. Leary, who registered from New York, at Hotel Latham, a few evenings ago, fractured the peace to the extent of $32. Leary filled up on liquor and on going into the dining room assaulted a waiter and drew a revolver upon him. A policeman was called in and took the young man before the police judge, who assessed a fine of $25. Defendant became enraged at the action of the court and made such uncomplimentary remarks about "his treatment" that an additional fine of $5, for contempt of court, was added to the first item. He paid the necessary cash and left minus $32 excess money.

Ordered Out of the City.

Hettie McKee, Mattie McReynolds and Lee McKee, all colored, who had been serving a jail sentence for keeping a disorderly house, were released from custody Friday. Soon afterwards they became so boisterous and disorderly that they had to be "pulled" again. Saturday morning Judge Breathitt sentenced them to jail for a year. They were then given the choice of serving their long sentences or leaving the city permanently. They chose the latter, and were escorted to the city limits by officers and told to go and stay.

Caught the Wrong Man.

Sam McKee, col. who was captured at Hecla Mines, Earlington, by officers from Providence, charged with attempting to assault Miss Stull on the L. & N. road near Providence, proved to be the wrong man. He was taken to Providence, but the young lady said he was not the man, and was discharged from custody. Booker is said to have answered the description of the fiend, and to have been at Providence on the day of the assault. The officers are searching further for the guilty party and if he is caught Judge Lynch will decide his fate.

Jack McCarroll Seriously Hurt.

Jack McCarroll, aged 15 years, a son of Mr. James E. McCarroll, who lives a few miles North of the city, met with a painful accident last Wednesday. He was riding a mule when the animal stepped in a hole and fell. Young McCarroll was thrown and one of his legs was broken. He was first taken to a mill where he had sustained injuries, but this proved to be untrue and he is now getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Judge Grace's Opinion.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 18.—The court of appeals this morning reversed the life sentence of Jesse Fields and Jo Adkins, of Perry county, who were sentenced for the murder of County Judge Combs. Judge Grace wrote the opinion of the court, and the verdict was reversed on the ground that the lower court did not award proper process for witnesses. The case goes back to the lower court and a new trial has been ordered.

Good for a Hundred.

Mr. Arthur Beeny, living just over the line in Hopkins county, is 93 years old and engages in outdoor work nearly every day. He is not compelled to do this, but does it as a matter of choice. He is the oldest citizen of Hopkins county, and is still vigorous. Mr. Beeny was born in North Carolina, but came to Kentucky while he was a young man.

Thrown From His Milk Wagon.

As Mr. Clements Ueter was coming into the city Sunday morning driving his milk wagon, his horse became detached from the vehicle throwing Mr. Ueter and his cow into the air. On his head and was badly cut about the face and scalp, rendering him unconscious for a few minutes. Pete Jordan, col., who was in the wagon, was thrown out and sustained several bad bruises and the dislocation of two of his fingers.

A Miracle in Texas.

INVESTIGATED BY THE TEXAS CHRISTIAN ALYCAUTE AND VOUCHERED BY DR. C. H. STANSBURY.

(From the Texas Christian Advocate.)

Our representative has made a careful investigation of the H. E. Spaulding case at Longview, which is here published for the first time, and which will be read with great interest by medical men everywhere.

It is only in the Christian Advocate's columns that Mr. Spaulding's case is being read by the people of this country. It came on slow but sure and in a few months I lost control entirely of that member. It was just the same as if it was paralyzed, I was totally unable to move out of my room for a year and a half, six months of which time I was bed-ridden. I tried every remedy suggested, and bed-ridden physicians in constant attendance on me. I was handled up and sent to Hot Springs where I spent three months under the treatment of the most eminent specialists, all of which did me no good, and I came back from the springs in a worse condition than when I left. I came home and laid flat on my back and suffered the most excruciating agonies, screaming in pain every time anybody walked across the room, the only ease I obtained being from the constant use of the Williams' Pink Pills. I was in this condition for three months of this kind of agony, during which time my entire left leg perished away and my right leg was so weak that I was finally forced to my feet by the use of a new remedy called Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. By the use of this new iron tonic at Longview, Texas, and who was relieved of locomotor ataxia of twenty years duration. At his request and repeated solicitation I consented to give him a trial of the Williams' Pink Pills. He began to improve. I continued taking the pills and kept right on improving until I was finally cured. My leg is just the same size now as the other one, and I am sure the Pink Pills not only cured me but saved my life.

The reporter next visited Dr. C. H. Stansbury, a graduate of one of the medical schools of Kentucky, and a man who enjoys the confidence of everybody in Longview. He said: "I know that Mr. Spaulding had a terribly severe attack of locomotor ataxia, and when I tried to cure him, and every thing known to my profession in vain, and finally recommended him to go to Hot Springs. He came back from the springs worse than when he went and I thought it was only a matter of time until his heart would be affected and he would die. I also know that his cure is the direct result of the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

"That is rather an unusual statement for a regular physician to make, doctor."

"I know it is, but a fact is a fact, and there he stands, right here in Longview, who knows what I say is the truth. I also know Mr. Allison and know that he was relieved of a genuine and severe case of locomotor ataxia of twenty years standing."

A Charming Author.

She was not down on the programme, but for all that the most interesting thing about the Sorosis meeting the other day was the presence of the author of "Some Emotions and a Moral."

She sat upon the platform and she didn't look a bit like a woman who would choose "John Olden" or "Hobbes" as a pen-name. She was of medium height, plump in figure, and possessed a pair of bright, rather restless brown eyes. Her hair was also brown and her complexion bright. When commented upon her clever stories, she replied: "Oh, you are very kind; but I don't feel one bit clever over here. Every thing's so clever. Why, I haven't met a stupid woman since I landed in America."

Mrs. Craigie expressed herself as especially delighted with Sorosis—N. Y. Evening Sun.

Tersely Put.

Occasionally a teacher discovers a rare gift of condensation in a child at school. One teacher in a primary school, the other day, told her small pupils the story of the ass who put on the lion's skin; and then she commanded each child to write down an anecdote in a moral for the fable. This was the moral which one little girl, aged six, handed in: "Don't be what you ain't!" If all our false-color people would frame that "moral" and hang it up on their walls—Boston Transcript.

The President's Chair.

The only vacant seat in the galleries when the house was called to order and the only one that was not occupied during the proceedings of the day is that which the rules of the house reserve for the president of the United States. On such occasions it is usually filled by members of the cabinet's families or visitors to the city to whom the president or Mrs. Cleveland sends cards, but, although the rest of the galleries were jammed with people, this conspicuous seat was empty all day and afforded a topic of conversation.

We handle all the new lasts, widths, style toes and at all prices, we ask your inspection. Our Celebrated 20th Century Ladies Shoes have been the admiration of all who have seen them, and our line of Gents Shoes, and Children's School Shoes cannot be excelled.

Our steadily increasing trade in Shoes, necessitated the removal of them into another room.

To the Public:

The Removal of our Shoes, Carpets, and Gents' Furnishings into our "Annex Building," gives us the largest floor and shelf space ever devoted to the Dry Goods business in Hopkinsville, and our annual Stock Taking has brought out the fact that in some lines we are stocked too heavily at this season of the year. We shall, therefore, offer from now Until February 1st, SWEEPING REDUCTIONS on the articles here mentioned. In some instances they are less than cost, because we don't want to carry them over until another season. We are confirmed in the maxim that the "first loss is the cheapest" and that a reproduction of goods carried from season to season and offered to the Trade places the merchant in the attitude of being far behind the march of modern and business-like merchandising.

We prefer to give to our friends these benefits; to buy many things which they need, high prices for bidding, rather than sticking to the old time way of "putting a price on them and keeping them until you get your price."

Read carefully, therefore, what we have to say elsewhere on this page. Visit us in our enlarged quarters for the next 15 days and we promise to save you money.

Thanking our friends for their liberal support, which has made it possible for us to double our capacity to serve the trade, and soliciting a liberal share in the future, which shall be gratefully appreciated, we beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

Richards & Co

The Democrats at Frankfort, for the present at least, are masters of the situation. By assuming the aggressive and showing the Republicans that they would fight them at their own game, they have brought the enemy to a halt. In the Senate on the Democratic side there are some of the gamest and most eagle-eyed political managers in the state, and the Reds have few, if any, to catch them.

Pugilist Corbett has given out that he will again appear in the prize ring, but the proof is that he has taken up another line of sport. He has just purchased of Gideon & Daly, of Holmdel, N. J., four blooded horses, which will form the nucleus of a racing stable that he is about to establish at Morris' Park race track in New York.

The United States pays $900,000 a year for its weather service; Great Britain, $80,000; Germany, $50,000; Russia, $65,000; Austria, $10,000; Switzerland, $6,000, and France $70,000. Notwithstanding this enormous outlay here, it is said that the weather in the countries mentioned is far more agreeable than that which we are accustomed to.

The date for hearing the contested railroad commissioner race of Porter vs. Dempsey has been set by the contest board for February 11. The members of the board are five, and include the governor, the secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general. Depositions have already been taken in a number of counties of the district.

The argument in the case of the Commonwealth of Kentucky against the L. & N. railroad was heard last week in the United States Supreme Court at Washington, and an early decision is now looked for to settle the point as to whether the Illinois Central or the L. & N. will have control and ownership of the C. O. & S. W. railroad.

Paderewski's total receipts for twenty-eight performances have reached the enormous sum of $80,431; the greatest amount probably ever received by a musician. The twenty-eighth performance in Cleveland, O., showed receipts of $4,710.

The line of aspirants to the United States Senatorship in Maryland was never so long before. Nearly every Republican of any note in that state is waiting with a watering mouth thinking that the Senatorial toga will descend upon his broad shoulders.

Last Friday Senator Fenton Sims visited Senator Ogilvie, of McCracken, who is ill, and made an effort to induce him to resign so that another Democrat might be elected. But the Senator declined to send in his resignation.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running ear, or a discharge, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Mrs. Rice had been living in Memphis, Tenn., for several years. Her husband, Mr. Wm. H. Rice, died there some time last year and Mrs. Rice decided to make her home in this city. Scrofula Sores Cured

By Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Since the year 1879, I have not known what it was to see a well day. I have developed a great deal, and some of the physicians called my trouble dyspepsia, others said it was biliousness, and others called it kidney trouble. I paid out a great deal of money for doctor bills and swallowed a great many different drugs, but none of the medicines which I took accomplished a cure. I was persuaded by a friend to try a box of Hood's Pills, and I was well satisfied with them. I then Determined to Try Hood's Sarsaparilla. After I had taken four bottles of this medicine, I was feeling as well as I ever did in my life. If Hood's Sarsaparilla cost $3 a bottle, I would not be without it. A friend of mine who suffered with constant pain in the back and disfigurement, and who also had sores on his hands and body, began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after using one bottle the sores healed. I always speak highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and regard it as a wonderful medicine." O. P. ROBERTS, Hadenville, Ky.

CROSSED THE DEAD LINE.

State Senator's Experience with Tennessee Moonshiners.

An unusual story of outlawry comes from the Red Sulphur Springs district of Hardin county. This is a notorious resort for moonshiners, and they have made a creek there the dead line for revenue officers. Some two weeks ago a raiding party slipped into the district and destroyed a still, capturing three men, including one named Davis, wanted at Memphis for murdering a deputy marshal and wounding United States Marshal Brown.

A few days ago State Senator Sims, of Lawrence county, and a man named J. H. Parker went to Hardin county on legal business. They unwittingly entered the Red Sulphur district and were near where the still was destroyed when they were suddenly confronted by six men, armed with guns, who, taking them prisoners, marched them to a canebrake, where they began preparations to hang them.

Sensor Sims pleaded with them that they were not revenue officers. The men finally consented to delay the execution a few hours to give Sims an opportunity to establish his identity. He gave one of the men ten dollars to ride to a town and bring a man named who he knew. After five hours the man came and identified Sims. The outlaws then took the two men to the Tennessee river, and, placing them on a barge, started them across it, telling them that if they ever came back they would hang them without any questions, and any revenue men invading the district would meet the same fate.—Nashville (Tenn.) Correspondence Louisville Courier-Journal.

IT WAS TRUE.

A New England Schoolboy Answers a Question in Fractions.

Bright children at school are in great danger sometimes of passing over the border line of mathematics into the forbidden domain of common sense. It is recorded that the teacher in a New England school once said to her class in mental arithmetic:

"Now, boys, I have a few questions in fractions to ask. Suppose I have a piece of beefsteak, and cut it into two pieces. What would those pieces be called?"

"Halves!" shouted the class.

"Right. And if I cut each half into two pieces?"

"Quarters!"

"That is correct. And if the quarters were each cut in half?"

"Eighths!"

"Yes. And if those were chopped in two?"

"Sixteenths!"

"Very good. And when the sixteenths were cut in half, what would they be?"

The answers had been growing fewer and fewer, but one boy meditated a moment, and answered:

"Thirty-second!"

"Very good," said the teacher. "And now we'll chop those thirty-second in half. Can any boy tell what we have now?"

There was a silence in the class, but presently a little boy at the foot put up his hand.

"Do you know, Johnny? Well, you may tell me."

"Hash!" answered Johnny, confidently—and truly.—Youth.

It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osmond,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Knechtel,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physician in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

"The Common People," As Abraham Lincoln called them, do not care to argue about these ailments. What they want is a medicine that will cure them, "I know that Hoods Sarsaparilla cured me," is the best argument in favor of this medicine, and this is what many thousands voluntarily say.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills. Assist digestion, cure headache, etc.

Farmers are well pleased with the growing crop of wheat.

Best Family Medicine.

Mr. C. N. Jones, Garard, Ala., says, May 10th, 1896: "I was suffering from Catarrh in the head and was cured by Kings Royal Germant. We keep it all the time, and believe that it is the best family medicine there is on the market to day."

Germant suits all ages in the home. It is so harmless that the tenderest babe and most delicate invalids are always safe in using it.

It cures when all else fails. New packages, large bottles, 108 doses, $1. For sale by R. C. Hardwick druggist.

RIPPING A GARMENT.

The Task Appears Easier Than It Is—A Possible Employment.

There is a general impression that it is an easy enough matter to rip up a garment. Most anybody can do it, and it is an undertaking that requires no special skill or care. Acting on this idea, clothing is pulled, torn, cut with knives, snipped with scissors and finally taken to pieces after this unprofitable fashion, and the operator comes and declares that everything is ready. A dyer who handles a large quantity of black goods says that he long ago gave up expecting anybody to rip a garment up as it should be done. If the seams are ripped, they are full of threads; sometimes there are buttons on; hooks and eyes are not uncommon; the fronts of them are stuck full of pins of various sorts, and linings, facings, braids and the like remain, in whole and in pieces, just as the individual who had charge of the disintegrating process happens to leave them.

To rip up a garment properly there should be no pulling, tearing or dragging apart. If one cannot take the end of the thread and pull it out, the gitties should be cut with a sharp knife. Very few persons can rip a garment with scissors without doing it great harm. Indeed, many find it impossible to cut stitches with anything without making holes that render the goods absolutely worthless for the one who originally wore it. When it is done the edges are so ragged that a much smaller pattern must be used. In preparing goods for the dyer, or to be made over, every stitch should be taken out. It seems scarcely necessary to say that facings, braid and hooks and eyes must be removed, but this is imperative, in view of the condition in which garments come to the dressmaker and the dyer. Many dresses, capes and jackets are perfectly wearable after being carefully ripped, brushed, sponged and pressed. It is wonderful that some one does not set up an establishment for ripping clothes and putting them in order for the dressmaker. The owner of them frequently has not time to do them properly, or is too careless and under-stand the requirements of them to do it had all the time in the world. Some semi-invalid in every community might get a tolerable living, or at least add to a limited income, by preparing garments for remodeling.—N. Y. Ledger.

Lady Betty Cunningham, having had some difference of opinion with the parish minister, instead of putting her usual contribution in the collection plate, merely gave a stately bow. This having occurred several Sundays in succession, the elder in charge of the plate at last lost patience, and burst out: "We cud de w'less o' yer manners, an' mair o' yer sillier, mair eddy." Dying on one occasion at the house of a nobleman he happened to repeat the anecdote, whereupon the host, in a not over-pleased tone, said: "Are you aware, Dr. Chalmers, that Lady Betty is a relative of mine?" "I was not aware, my lord," replied the doctor; "but, with your permission, I shall mention the fact the next time I tell the story."

SOME ANCIENT FAT.

Adipose That Accumulated Thousands of Years Ago.

Valuable Scientific Find Made by Dr. Dall of the Smithsonian Institute—Facts About the Mummies of Early Centuries.

Dr. Dall, of the Smithsonian institution, during his recent visit so Alaska secured a natural history specimen that was a prize, indeed, says the Washington Evening Star. It was a bit of mammoth fat from the actual adipose tissue of an animal that had been dead for tens of thousands of years.

Bodies of mammoths in a fresh state have been dug up from time to time in Arctic Siberia, preserved in natural cold storage since a period probably antedating the first appearance of man on the earth. That is an old story; but this is the first known instance in which the soft parts of a beast of this species have been found on the American continent. It is easy to imagine the scientific interest attaching to the discovery.

Agos ago this mammoth died, under such circumstances that its corpus was buried in mud. At about that time there was a great and permanent change in the temperature of circumpolar regions. The climate had been sub-tropical. It suddenly became frigid. The mammoths were literally "frozen out," the last of the species perishing of cold. This particular individual, frozen in a bank of clay, had every prospect of "keeping" for an indefinite period.

Hundreds of centuries later, a stream flowing through an Alaskan valley tracked the clay bank referred to and began to cut it away. At length some big bones stuck out, and a native of exceptional courage dug out one or two of them. This required more of that quality known in civilized countries as "nerve" than might be imagined, for strange monsters, however long they may have been dead, are regarded with superstitious awe by natives.

However, the natives finally summoned courage enough to drag the remains of the mammoth out of the clay bank piecemeal. The body of the animal had been preserved so perfectly that a fairly perfect cast of it was found in the matrix. A quantity of fat, which overlay the intestines, was obtained and was used for greasing boats. Dr. Dall secured a piece of it and fetched it back to Washington.

The office of Osteologist Frederick A. Lucas, at the National museum, is a mammoth's molar tooth, to which an old story is attached. It was got from a spring at Paso Verde, in the country of the Papago Indians. Ever so many centuries ago a mammoth in its dying agonies sought that spring for water and fell into it, too weak to climb out. There its bones remain to this day, and the Indians believe that if they were removed the spring would dry up. Of course, such an event in that region means the destruction of a village.

Mastodon bones, of course, are frequently dug up in the United States. The mastodon was a kind of elephant, but it did not belong to the genus Elephas. The mastodon did not belong to that genus, being known to modern science as Elephas primigenius. It often happens that farmers plow up the osseous remains of mastodons, particularly in reclaimed swamps, where anciently the gigantic beasts became mired and died from sheer helplessness to get out. The tusks are commonly found so far decomposed that the ivory crumbles between the fingers.

The first mastodon ever dug up was found in 1813. The remains of mastodons are by no means confined to the United States; they are discovered all over the world, in Europe, Asia and Asia Minor. They are much thicker set than the modern elephants. The lower jaw bone of the full-grown specimen weighs nearly 100 pounds. The first mastodon bones that were dug up were supposed to be those of giants of an earlier epoch.

Teeth of Gold.

In 1803 the business of making and fitting teeth was all done by the jeweler. Most of the teeth were of gold, and only the jeweler and goldsmiths then did work in that metal.

WATER SNAKE BIGHTS EEL

Terrific Combat Which Finally Ended in the Eel's Escape.

"Did you ever know that there is a deadly animosity between a common water snake and an eel?" asked the fisherman, reports the Indianapolis Sen-inel. "Well, I never knew it until an experience that I had in swimming with a light between the two. Personally I have the greatest dread of eels. I'm more afraid of them than I am of a snake, and you can imagine how I felt when I happened to look one on one of my fishing expeditions. I was afraid to touch it, and all I could do was to let it hang in the air. I could not get it off my hook, and I was meditating what to do, when altogether unnoticed I allowed the slimy object to drop down into the water. In a moment I saw a big water snake make a dive for it. At the first lunge it caught the neck of the eel squarely between its teeth and I could see it sink its ugly-looking fangs into the eel's flesh. I waited anxiously to see the developments. With its grim hold still on the eel's neck the snake, quick as it takes to tell it, wrangled its slim body around its antagonist's neck in an effort to squeeze it to death.
The body of the eel was too thick, however, and the snake's coils, despite all it could do, would slip down into the water. Time and time again it tried to squeeze the life out of its antagonist, never for an instant relaxing its hold on the eel's neck, but the body of the latter was too sleek for it, and every time it would slip down. Finally the snake broke, and the eel made good his escape."

ENTANGLED IN HIS OVERCOAT.
Unfortunately Frolicsome of a Very Fat
Man at the Theater.

He was such a very fat man that the entire audience turned around to look at him when he came into the theater.
In the middle of the first act and took his seat in an orchestra chair. He wore his last year's "flop" overcoat, says the Philadelphia Record, which was the cause for him. He had evidently taken on flesh during the year. He paid no attention to the interest his neighbors expressed in him, but sat down and once became absorbed in the play. He grew warm, and with his eyes still glued to the stage, he arose and shed his overcoat. The people around him began to titter, and finally to laugh very audibly. The fat man realized at length that the people were laughing at him. Then he noticed, with great confusion, that he was in his shirtwaist.
His sack coat had come off with the overcoat. He put them both on again and sat down. He was so embarrassed, but he wouldn't move a little bit. He gave a desperate tug and wriggled his fat shoulders, and the next moment he was in his shirtwaist again. "Get out of this down!" "Get it off!" cried the people behind him, but the fat man tried again, and with the assistance of two men in the seats behind him he finally managed to shed his overcoat.

BENDING OF WOODS.
An Act Extensively Used in Carriage and Boat Building.

Comparatively few persons outside the carriage and boat-building industry are aware of the extent of the bending industry, and but few realize that the carriages they ride in are very largely made of such wood—the felloes of all their wheels are bent and made in two parts—the framework of coaches and heavy carriages is nearly all made of bent stock, and not only better made, but more cheaply—and the framework of pleasure boats are bent, as also many of the frames of the finest sailing yachts; furniture, too, of many kinds has been framed, and the celebrated Thonet chairs, for example, being made entirely of wood thus treated. The object of bending is twofold, says the Woodworker, namely, saving of time and stock and stability and strength of the work when put together—this independent of beauty of form; and bent carriage seats are almost entirely used, now, instead of the old style, clumsy, sawed ones. Skill in manipulating the material is very essential; simply the force to bend on the steam box in which to soften the wood do not alone insure success in the operation—it is necessary to know perfectly the stock to bend, it being a variable that no two pieces bend alike.

Foremen in Russia.
A peculiar fact in respect to petroleum is the difference of conditions under which it occurs in Russia and America. In the former it is found in strata of the tertiary period, usually a formation resembling a quicksand, and at depths of only a few hundred feet.
In our country it occurs at great depths in the older compact sandstones and limestones. American oil yields a very large proportion, say about 70 per cent, of kerosene oil exactly suited for combustion in our ordinary lamps;
the Russian oil produces far less of such oil and a larger proportion of high-class lubricating oil. The Russian illuminating oil also requires to be burned in a modified form of lamp with a more perfect draft, in order to overcome the tendency to produce a smoky flame, and it is largely this fact which has prevented the consumption of Russian oil for light abroad.

The Minister's Blunder.
The New Yorkers are telling one another of a good joke on Rev. John Wesley Brown, rector of St. Thomas church, previously rector of St. Paul's in that city. His part in the ceremonial of the Paget-Whitney wedding was to read the service. But he had marked the wrong place in the prayer book or the ringing disconcerted him; at any rate the wedding party was amazed to hear his rich, full voice utter the words, "I am the resurrection and the life!"
"Heaven and earth!" ejaculated
Bishop Potter, in a whisper behind him.
The rector at once awoke to the fact that he was reading the burial service, and, after one breathless second, he proceeded with the proper ritual.

BABY'S CURING.
Nature intended that every woman should look forward to the coming of her baby with joy and hope. It is a thing among the most beautiful and anxiety. Almost painful parturition is quite the usual thing among uncivilized people.
Even in this country
it occasionally happens
with women in robust health and good condition. It ought to be the rule instead of the exception; and it is a fact that a very large proportion of the usual pain and suffering may be avoided by looking after the mother's general health, and specially strengthening the particular organs concerned in parturition.

Many mothers have been brought through the trying time almost painlessly by the aid of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It prepares the system for delivery by imparting the organic strength and elasticity which the mother specially needs; shortens
the time of labor and of the confinement;
promotes the secretion of abundant nourishment for the child and fortifies the entire constitution against the after period of depression and weakness. It is used begin in the early months of gestation—the earlier the better.

Mrs. FANNY HUNT, of Glenview, St. Louis, Mo.,
writes: "I read Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription being so good for a woman with children, I got two bottles and began to use December 1st. I had a twelve-month baby girl.
When I was confined I was not very well, and I did not suffer any pain, and when the child was born I walked into another room and was tired, I never had an after-pain or any other pain. This was the first child I ever had, and I feel all right. I am a mother now, and I do not suffer with the other ladies. I always had a doctor and then he could not help me very much, but this time my mother and my husband were alone with me. My baby was only seven days old when I got up and dressed and left my room and stayed up all day."

WOMAN'S BEAUTY NO SECRET.
It lies in the care she takes, expelling
from the system the poisonous impurities which cause the terrible skin diseases prevalent to women. The scales, pimples, blotches, eruptions, and all the ugly things which mar the complexion, etc., which accompany all the troubles are caused by impure blood, and a failure of the delicate organs of womanhood to perform their natural function. It is a rain remedy for disease peculiar to females and for all diseases of the skin and bladder.

People overlooked the importance of permanently securing effects and were satisfied with transient action but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitually constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

About Leap Years.
The year 1900 will not be a leap year. If the natural year or time of the earth's revolution around the sun, were exactly 365 days and six hours, then the calendar would be kept exactly right by adding a day every four years, having three years out of the four with 365 days and the fourth year with 366 days. But the natural year is only 365 days 5 hours 48 minutes 49.7 seconds, which makes it necessary to omit the leap year at certain intervals. The rule is that every fourth year leap except that centennial years not divisible by 400 are not leap. The year 1600 was leap, and the year 2000 will be. The intermediate centennial years 1700 and 1800 were not leap and 1900 will not be.—St. Louis Republic.
